- The majority of out-of-date vaccines related to immunisations which would normally be given at school, but were unable to be given during the covid pandemic.
- A mapping exercise was underway to identify numbers, which immunisations are outstanding and localities.

- Accessible locations would be offered depending on localities of the young person.
- Communication with CioC and Target Teams is key to ensure the right messages are delivered and uptake is high.
- Bookings will be managed by the 0-19 services.

As part of the ensuing discussion the following questions/comments were made:

- A Member queried if there was a plan to action immunisations in a specific order by vaccine or age. Members were advised that adolescent ages 0-5 would be prioritised first. Those vaccinations provide more effective cover if administered at the appropriate age, they can however also be given at later ages.
- A member queried if there was resistance from children or parents and what actions were taken support any uncertainties. Members were advised that parental consent is usually high however, if a parent or older CioC who can consent themselves have any uncertainties, the service would take the time to have conversations with them and inform about herd immunity.
- A Member stated that if a young person/resident missed the HPV vaccination given in schools, GP service informed them they would have to wait until the following years HPV vaccination programme returned to their school to receive the vaccination, which would be a year later than advised. Members were advise that the HV/SN service is working closely with Intrahealth to establish good working relationships including the introduction of catch up clinics.

It was RECOMMENDED that the information in the update be noted.

directorate could act upon these swiftly in the hope of engaging with perspective foster carers and sign then up to the training programme.

- School exclusions have reduced for Children in our Care compared to this time last year. An indicator that feeds into this reduction was the positive transitions which took place in the first school term.

FORWARD PLAN FOR CORPORATE PARENTING BOARD

Members and Officers discussed the current arrangements of the Have Your Say Group and how the Children in our Care engaged with members on a six-weekly basis at their youth club group. Members and Officers agreed it was an opportunity to rethink how they engage with the group and the following suggestions were made:

- The have your say group young people should have their voices heard by Members and Officers and should feel empowered to lead these sessions and to set their own agendas.
- The young people should feel empowered to bring their ideas and expectations to Members and Officers and engage within realistic conversations.
- To engage with the young people earlier in council processes, such as when policies are being developed to ensure their lived experiences and voices are taken into consideration when shaping policy.
- Engagement with separated young migrants should also be prioritised and ongoing engagement regularly taking place.
- Members and Officers should work closely with Officers from The Junction to ensure all their young people have an opportunity to be heard and not just those who are most confident to speak. Consideration should be given to offering alternative sessions, such as in smaller groups with fewer CPD members to not be overwhelming.
- Ensure CPD feedback to the young people regarding actions, what can and what cannot be actioned and why.

It was RECOMMENDED that:

1. The information in the update be noted; and,
2. Officers to present a proposal regarding ways forward for HYSG engagement to the next meeting.
